About Us

Blue Moon Resources is a majority owned and operated Goldfields Aboriginal business that provides services in plant, exploration, rehabilitation, drill programs, and other integrated services. We use our services to create opportunities for people, family and Country.

Blue Moon Resources has a dedicated focus to supporting projects which assist in caring for Ngadju Country and aid in cultural knowledge and preservation. We fund and support community projects which meet objectives so that legacy can be left for future generations.

Our Values

Our values guide how we nurture the relationships in our kinship network, how we make decisions and the kind of behaviour we want to model in our actions.

We All Have Value - Each part of our kinship network has a necessary role to play by bringing their passion, ideas and discipline to empowering Aboriginal people and caring for country.

We Are All Accountable - We are all accountable for our kinship network and take responsibility over our choices, behaviours and actions so that we can continuously improve.

We All Belong - We foster a sense of belonging to each other and all parts of the kinship network by being inclusive, supportive and operating like a family.

We Trust Each Other - We are prepared to sacrifice some of our own self-interest to build the capacity, resilience and value of others in the kinship network. Trust is created by looking after others and having others look after you.

Our Kinship

The Blue Moon kinship network is composed of the relationships between our employees, shareholders, suppliers, customers and the communities in which we belong, work and live. We can only achieve our purpose with sustainable relationships with our kinship network.

Employees Brings their passion, ideas, discipline, talents, and networks
